Ancestral Wounds, Tribal Spirit Bearers & Wounded Healers

Grab your goodies, hit afterburner, and let's go. C. G. Jung had the Devil of a time expressing his works into writing. Translations from his native language into English did not help one bit. No vocabulary exists that far out of this world to do it justice anyway but he did his best with materials on hand. The central core of all religious philosophy is the 'Christ.' Not in the woo-woo, status quo, crap of those religions ruling this planet. 'Christ' means messenger. Eras ago a messenger came to Earth and gave us the answers and way home. No it was not the Pleiadians, moon bats, indigo kids, greys or from space crashes wreckage of area 12. The original 'Christ-Superstar' as it were. All other Christ Archetypes are wannabe frauds like Elvis impersonators. Bastards of the original set to mammon and control not as the way to spiritual redemption and the ejection seat escape out of this place.

A finger pointing to the moon is not the moon of truth. These wannabes teach people to focus on the finger not truth. Moreover, they perversely teach people to reject truth and accept lies instead. You know those sweet little lies guys say in the dark that work better than saying 'open says me' and get Mr. one-eye tube snake into hopefully still tight places. When masses only know lies truth is invisible to them. Ie. Fake news of juicy gossip crowds out truth like a pile of flyspecks aka fly shit crowds out a single pepper flake of truth. It is there but unless one searches for it, no cigar.

One must know what is to know what is not.

Remember I explained what Archetype meant? Role model. Ie. religious saints, the apostles, etc. are old stuff role models same as the new stuff of mass media talking heads, sports stars, phony heroes, politicians, rich & brainless people, movie & music stars, and other marketing promotions of products and lifestyles. Those are all phonies to control and profit from the slave masses or proles. The Matri-X as it were. Jung recognized the deeper 'Christ' archetype and called it a 'wounded healer.' He got that I believe from indigenous African tribes such as the aborigines and native Negroes during his world tour visiting other cultures outside of Western realm. These same core beliefs were also common to the North American, original nations people's traditions Ie. North American Indians. They existed around the world until cancerous christianity destroyed them through imperialistic, christian soldier, military expansion, assimilation and worse. Note this is very ancient. One of the most controversial finds was a Viking ship, way before Molly Hatchet arrived on the scene, that held christian and ancient Norse relics. These were separated with one on to the RHS of the ship and the other on the LHS. Intellectuals are still arguing why? However, it tells me the christian cancer was infecting and dominating the world a long way back using assimilation as a peaceful method to conquering the planet. Indicating their plans to become this worlds ruling power is old, very old....NWO has nothing on these birds or perhaps that is NWO as the conspiracy meme puppies fuss so much about. It has been going on long before Jesus was a corporal.

The true 'Christ' Archetype goes even further back. There is not much out there available to we proles about this but someone or some thing knows the whole truth, and that truth is in safekeeping. The crap fed to prole masses is to control and keep them paying union dues to the church PTB. The North American Indians, I will simply use verbiage 'Indians' from here on would understand the Christ paradigm. When one arrived, they cultivated s/he as a spirit bearer of the tribe aka, a Christ child as it were. This was a rare event. These souls were special; what's more they have grown almost hen's teeth rare in coming here. This place is too hard on them and few volunteer for the duty anymore. That is extremely bad for humanity. Should those lights stop coming here the world will enter into darkness beyond description. There is something in Christian texts and other about darkness taking over the earth for a spell where it exclusively owns this realm. Before all flesh is consumed a redeemer comes to subdue the evil. I am sketchy on this so read the texts that are still available in your dogma if interested.

A long time ago I read this story about a secret Monastery full of monks that counted stars in our galaxy. When the task finished in counting the last star, the galaxy vanished forever. That is the darkness should healers stop coming to this planet FUBAR. Those old myths and stories have a core of meaning in them compassing millions of earth years. People did not write them because they had nothing better to do like beer, BBQ, fishing, petting your dog, watching sunsets, telling fishing porkys about the one that got away with the guys and watching ball games! They are there as a message to future human inhabitants as a warning of keeping humanity's head in its ass. Global mass extinctions of humanity are rare but true nonetheless. We have wiped our sorry asses and all else off this planet more than a few times.

Pole reversals three times did us in after really pissing off the owners and scientists proved that already. This is a pole reversal. Earth spins 365,000 mph on an axis. That is so fast not even our best Texas cops can catch it to say, 'hi, caution motorist to drive safely and slow it down a little bit.' Then spend an hour or two gossiping about the governor. When the owners do a pole reversal they hit the brakes then reverse the spin of this ball at 365,000 mph to other way in like 2 seconds. Talk about shit hitting the wall along with lips, assholes and everything else. Even our mean Texas alligators hide deep underground from that shit. In sum a pole reversal is a biblical rearrangement of the world's furniture that really pisses off the old lady for millennia - FUBAR.

Moreover, Evidence is that humans or something has many times blown our sorry asses off this planet surface with WMD's, too. We have been this way before and reset the world surface evolution back to the Stone Age BC era more than once. Not sure what triggers that but we are about to do it again. Should wounded healer souls stop coming that means a very long dry spell without ballgames, chips and beer or fishing stories.... The darkest ages redux. As George Carlin said, "the earth is not going anywhere you human assholes are...” When the lights come on again, another dawn of humanity when new arrivals are scratching their hairy asses and armpits reading cave drawings and dead sea scrolls trying to figure out who we were while unraveling Jung’s onion. This stuff is proven. Details lie with the secrets about the true Christ, its message and everything else probably the owners have it tucked away in safekeeping far away from monkey hands.

Moreover, unlike Hollywood tripe arrival of a wounded healer child was not one of those epiphanies with holy music, lights and other SFX drama where everyone lived happily ever after. It was just the opposite. One of the most amusing, yet unsettling internet memes especially on Youtube are all the glitter kiddies, spiritual gurus and those really serious cons telling people spiritual awakening is a walk in the park with Tinkerbell and Peter pan. Not so! Those fools following the pied pipers are in for the biblical shock of a lifetime when the real Time of Ashes awakening bites them in the ass like a steel bear trap set on bite-and-hold. However, there is a reason for even those frauds.

To know what is, is to know what is not and vice versa. They are teachers of that lesson.

A child born as a spiritual or tribal wounded healer would exhibit certain traits at birth that tribal elders, medicine man and woman all recognized, signaling that this was the chosen one to bear up and cure tribal wounds of that bloodline & egregore family. Some of the unluckier had the gift of induction to also heal foreign egregore families as well. Jesus it archetype abstract of that type ‘world’ healer Voof! Ever notice how heaven’s gifts turn to shitty curses here? As above so below but in a duality of positive and negative this side is negative. This ain’t heaven but I can see and touch it from here. Get my drift?

What that meant is an omnipotent spirit bearer carried more than his or her tribal egregore. Big load like Atlas the titan that carried the world of human woes on his shoulders. These kids had it tough. Born under a bad moon rising understates the matter. They had to be tough to uphold the burdens each would face in life healing tribal wounds. Avatar is another abstract but not that Hollywood shit! These people had a rough life as wounded healers. Ie. Mother Theresa was a wounded healer. She lived with and helped untold thousands of some of the poorest, sickest people in the world in forming her benchmark empathy of their suffering. Yo, hey, holy rollers Sunday school never taught this shit. She knew that by undergoing their suffering only then could she understand it enough to really heal their egregore family & treat their physical wounds. Tribal spirit bearers or wounded healers are that.

They are true Christ figures. Not that pious bullshit the church and gurus teach people.

Now what are wounds? Look around you see them everywhere including you. These can range from a hard-core crack or narcotic addiction to over dependence on your kids! Suicide, mental, physical, addictions, the deadly 7 sins, the list is endless and unless healed these continue to pass down through generations. The feminists like to rub men's noses in [...the sins of the fathers passed to their kids.] Propaganda and censorship are four letter words to me, so is feminist or feminazis. Listen ladies men are not androgynous...it takes two to tango, fight, fuck, have and raise kids. Ladies, your bloodline sins pass to offspring, too. Then to make that worse all those unhealed wounds of your ancestors that you carry pass to those kids, too. Talk about FUBAR child abuse – FUCK ME! The get out of trouble clause states that you are unconscious of doing this. Some things in the universe are free...this is one such instance. Unless healed, these wounds continue rolling downhill in the genetic lineage like shit rolls down hill to us from Washington DC, where DC stands for doesn't care.

That is where the tribal wound bearer or wounded healer child comes into play. The real Christ child archetype. The kid does not have a choice; s/he is born into it – again, shit happens and rolls down hill. Divine Law determines that in the kid...it happens off grid on the other side of the veil: as above rolls down to so below, except this reverses coming through the veil; above the soul's task is a blessing, down here it turns to a holy shit I am fucked curse. Go figure. That is mirror duality.

Tribes would punishingly prepare the chosen one through rituals to toughen s/he up to undergo his or her coming journey of life. No gender bias here at all. The child knew why, AGAIN THE CHILD KNEW WHY! That made a difference in attitude, which also prepared the wounded healer for his or her coming trials by fire. Healing tribal wounds is the core behind asking 'Jesus' to forgive sins as another get out of jail card on Sunday to fuck over everybody all week long until purchasing another get out of jail card. Pure marketing to fill church coffers not the real thing. It is amazing how parasitic humanity works. It turned the 'Gift of Heaven' into fucking profiteering.

Truth exists everywhere and cannot be hidden; however, it can face so much competition and fake news that people cannot see it. Like pepper flakes in a pile of flyspecks sort of thing. The VA does this all the time to offset bad a rep and publicity exposing its crimes. It wallpapers the web with VA propaganda to hide the truth....a shitstorm of fly specks or fly shit competing with posted truths that veterans tell the world about in desperately trying to get public help. 100 of them daily are literally killing themselves screaming for help from America & VA. In serious cases DOD & VA issues take down notices to web domain owners removing 'troublesome content' Ie. censorship.

Truth is abstract of Jung's 'wounded healer' which follows the tribal wound and spiritual healer paradigm exactly. This has many different names to the same end. The wounded healer throughout adulthood spends his or her entire life healing tribal ancestral wounds to free the egregore family, and to stop these curses inheritance by new generations. There is far more that I will not address here. I think you are confused enough. Once again Jung's onion grows instead of shrinking with each removed layer. Healing goes backward and forward some say only 7 generations. I know that it goes to both ends of the continuum. A healer undergoes and mends ancestral wounds so the unwounded who follow are not infected and do not have to undergo injury. Ie. Like when I served military duty with a gun in the back that socialists called freedom, and protesters of that time took a sacrificial tarring opposing Socialist freedom called the draft to end it. We did that so following generations would not be forced to undergo those injustices. Same for the wounded healer healing ancestral bloodline wounds except for the caveat that in the spiritual egregore healing bridges the whole continuum; once healed they are gone unless some Broken Person reintroduces them into the bloodlines by marriage or FUBAR lifestyle choices.

Elite ruling families are an example. They maintain pure bloodlines as in pure breed pedigree. They do this to block intermarriage infection from other family egregores & bloodlines! One can pick up more bloodline wounds from a single tainted outside heritage than Hooter Brown can recite in a spelling Bee marathon. Those ruling families are serious about their purity. They take a lot of moral tarring by the self-righteous, pious, assholes shaking a bony finger at family intermarriages. It is not like that you gossiping, single brained, sots believe. Get your heads above the 3-holes girdle gutter and self-educate about genomes, who, what, and why! The rest of us bearing ancestral wounds would be far better off for that purity, let me tell ya. Impurities hurt you long time. This is more than blood and genes. Every hear of an Egregore Family? Retarded science finally accepted this phenomenon to create a science division named Epigenetic. Tribal elders have known of that gem for 10's of thousands of years or more. This is a mind or spirit, body, and soul thing. Again, Jung had it pegged on the beam, centerline perfect in his approach to the human condition merging mind, body, and soul. He struggled to project that in his writings. It takes a lot of effort to extract and understand his meanings. They are located within Jung's onion, the more layers removed the larger becomes his onion!

Listen, I just dumped many heavy things on you. Research and kiss those toads to find out more; there is too much to write here. This must be learned and understood only by you in your way. Self-educate, which is the only true education.... the knowledge is out there but not as A, B, C... learning. When you find that shit it is not the learning you want or need.

Tip, a document, and audio titled Revelations of an Elite Family Insider exist on the web. See Internet Archive.org Find, download, and study them; find the 2005 pdf edition. Fakes exist...go figure. This is an authentic message. Why? Shortly after it arrived on the web, every kook in the world crawled from under their rocks claiming to be the mysterious 'insider.' Fakes showed up everywhere! Someone was seriously threatened by this message. Insider went to great lengths covering up its trail from detection. A kook would hang around for fame and to watch his or her handiwork excite the monkey's. Once the message got out, this being disappeared without a trace. When you understand that message it becomes clear why PTB want it censored. Remember St. John of the Crosses Dark Night of the Soul and Mother Theresa's deathbed letters exposing the church as a fraud? And the lengths that it went to in censoring those two lamp lighters?

Same for Insider's message. The text is more complete than the audio. Both help to understand the message though. Again, like Jung's onion that message grows with every layer removed. Profound understates the significance of it. A messenger went to a lot of trouble in getting that to us. This is not taught or told...you must find and understand it your way. Seek and you will find. A teacher always appears in correct time and rhythm with a student– and only the teacher knows when to come and find you...never the student. No cheating this test; god the Old Man made the perfect cheat proof test....

Ancestral wounds are real, deadly and horrifying painful. Ie, Ernest Hemingway's family among its many ancestral wounds had suicide in it. Yes, that is a wound. Curses as it were are egregore family wounds that travel through generations of bloodlines. Curse and wounds are only different verbiage for the same thing. His grandfather suicided and Ernest the man's man who had it all succumbed to it using the same shotgun his grandpa used to end his life during Hemingway's time of ashes battling with self.* His oldest daughter ended her life the same way. Until a wounded healer arrives in that family to heal that egregore, family bloodline the wound will continue down those generations. I use that only as an example...wounds are as infinite as all the humans that ever lived.

We are not talking morality like the schoolboy sin of jacking off in church to a hot mama sitting in the girl's choir while she is doing the same thinking about him. A thrill seeking thing in getting away with something like that during a boring, constipated sermon. It keeps them awake. That is a guilt trip to 'rule the proles' that church and her governments employ controlling the masses. Moral injury, yes, vaguely but more in the higher, divine sense that every human knows right from wrong installed OEM as born. For instance, there is a high price for killing another person. Does not matter if on purpose, accidental, by proxy...no! Ignorance is no excuse for killing – no cop-outs like you are taught by PTB & church. Even they have that gotcha clause of ignorance is no excuse for breaking their police state laws. You will face this in Time of Ashes and self-knowing. This is encountering the one person that people choose to die avoiding: the self. Again, Jung wrote, ["people will go to the most absurd extremes to avoid facing self as a soul."]

As a pioneer into uncharted waters for him, Jung had a hard time quantifying his ideas in writing. He meant Time of Ashes in facing one as true self or I. The war within. The worst battle anyone will ever wage. I have written about that at length in Demons and heroes I think. If interested find and read it. I guarantee that at some point in life that will bite your ass like a steel bear trap and not let go.

The wounded healer battles that all life long in healing bloodline wounds, which is part of the ongoing healing process. This is progressive in nature; each step prepares one for the next level. Same as a body builder progressively builds his or her physique incrementally over a lifetime of pumping iron. Same for a wounded healer. S/he comes into this place like all the rest as a frail, fragile human being. Not some superstar with magic powers. Then must be conditioned to the task incrementally or it will destroy s/he proper. They are still flesh and blood humans with a superhuman task to do. There is no escape from this covenant with the gods. Suicide? Yes and No. On the failed attempt the message is ‘stop this [suicide]; you cannot leave until competing your tasks...no one leaves this place without owner permission. However, when suicide exists as an ancestral wound within the bloodline a failed attempt has this blessing, it heals ancestral wounds of existing suicide in an egregore family & bloodline. If a healer can cross egregores inductively the benefit crosses over to those foreign bloodlines as well. Moreover, healing often is more painful than the original wounds to the egregore bloodline family. A wounded healer’s aka tribal spirit bearer’s life journey through this physical realm is tough terrain. This place is hard on one.

Jesus the Nazarene myth, minus religious woo-woo, is an abstract archetype of a Jewish tribal spirit bearer or wounded healer’s journey. He also surrogates as the original ‘Christ’ archetype or messenger sent to earth aeons ago. He also is inductive healing the world’s sins or wounds as it were. The christian’s economized in bastardizing their religion, which is an accumulated anthology of purloined and plagiarized parts and pieces of other religions such as ancient Egypt, Hindu, and so forth. They simply tweaked it throughout the ages to suit an agenda; nothing is original in that book of old stories except marketing. However, it remains a moneymaker almost three thousand years now. Joseph and Mary ruling families hold one lucrative franchise. George Lucas, baby, I love ya and you are one shrewd businessman with the Star Wars genius but hey, the jesus thing was brilliant and ahead of its time.

Something more, understand that over 99-9/10% of this realm is just as the unseen light and unheard audio invisible spectrums they are real and exist, These affect us every moment. Bad as the physical realm hurts it is insignificant to the rest. The physical is fragile, temporary, and weak; however, remains as a part of this cosmos regardless. PTB have been doing overtime to separate us from that. In the darkest ages had I been there and even suspected of knowing what I write here, the church would’ve made short work of me proper. It did everything to separate people from their roots of mind or spirit, body and soul. It replaced that with its father, son and holy ghost paradigm that centered in church control not in metaphysical reality and a core message from the true Christ of aeons ago.

You do not need the church or any body, no one in bodies, to know that. Simply go within where ones only power and strength reside to find it, again. According to the jesus myth, that is why he got into so much hot water with authorities of that time. He told the truth that if followed by the unwashed hordes would have put the church and her slut politicians out of business proper. Now jesus is an after birth of Socrates an ancient Greek philosopher who got into the same predicament with PTB for corrupting Greece’s youth spilling the bean pot of truth about them and more. They persecuted and murdered him similar to jesus...except the Greeks were more civilized than the Romans. Socrates met a less messy end with the same story abstract still intact. Christianity simply swiped that example and placed it in their texts tweaked to suit an agenda. If the masses had of caught on to this con, the christian’s going out of business fire sale would’ve been masses burning down that fraud for fucking them over so long. Remember the parable of the starving widow with two hungry kids giving her last two coins to the church instead of feeding her babies. And how the church praised, 'that is good and holy....' That's why! Kill you and your kids to feed the rich church growing richer.

It is not nice to rob the masses, just ask Louie, and let them eat cake Marie, guest stars to the French Revolution's guillotine party. They really lost their heads at that final farewell hosted by angry French proles. JC the Naz had guts to speak out in an age absent a Constitution and first amendment free speech protections. American's you never know what ya got till it is gone. Just ask old JC the Naz in an age without them how much trouble that can cause a guy. Whips, chains, crosses, big fucking nails and his ass pinned to that bitch for days without MTV, ball games, chips and beer. FUBAR. Hey, why are you slacktivist Americans not screaming about Jesus cruelty and abuse? He could've used some help! Like the US veterans killing selves at 100 a day undergoing the same abuses by VA....get involved. Never know when the next ass pinned to a cross is yours in the ongoing cult of the cross wars. Life is unpredictable in hell....shit happens fast and furious to sleeping proles.

I will say, the new scientific religion of white-coated priests and priestesses with script pads and bad drugs is same as that old time woo-woo religion. More horse shit drops out of those horses Asses than all the garbage barges of NYC could haul off. It cannot help you any more that Dr. Good's patent wagon, snake oil, medicine show did for suckers who bought that shit. These gurus and shrinks are more fucked up than you. They just got you convinced otherwise. You do not need them to find your way. They serve most people only as expensive comfort toys like a teddy bear.

As an aside, in the Roman times the early church ran opium routes to Asia. Their sea boat captains knew top-secret routes to orient opium drug trade centers. Should they reveal or be suspected of revealing them it was certain death in a very bad way. Not even Mata Hari's pussy could get it out of them. Roman church had a virtual monopoly not even Bill Gates Microsoft could out do. The church then as now profits on anything and has a monopoly on profit holding copyright to the word profits and all subsets of it. The church sold narcotics aka dope to the Roman upper classes that could afford opium. So the old time religion had the first crude scrip pads as it were and good drugs. Not even Texan's have shit on church profiteers...though Texans are second to making profit on anything imaginable. We do it big in Texas - go Texas, go!

Seriously folks, support the police, veterans, US Armed Forces and the local dog pound. Times are tough and they are there for us doing tough duty for your sorry asses. At least give them your support. Lucifer is still out at the whorehouse he inherited or something from a relative named Khomeini. CIA took Khomeini away as a bat shit crazy babbling fool after an oil baron Sultan dumped his unruly harem on him in an oil deal gone sour. I do not think even the Peruvian white line guys can revenge that sadistically. Beware when around those Sultans keep it on the table fair and square and watch your goodies. They are maniacs with those big knives. I am sure Lucifer has some tales to tell us when he gets back. Until then, get out there and research this material if it interests you. You will kiss many toads finding your prince or princess in self-educating about this stuff. It is heavy. Until next time if I am unlucky enough to still be living in this hell. I am outta here.

 WHEN ONE FIGHTS DEMONS IN SELF, S/HE SEES NOTHING ELSE IN LIFE BUT HIS OR HER PERSONAL DEMONS. NOT A FAMILY, KIDS, NOT EVEN SELF, ONLY DEMONS. THESE PERSONAL MONSTERS CONSUME THE PERSON. THE TIME OF ASHES IS THE LOWEST LEVELS OF HELL INTO WHICH A HUMAN CAN DESCEND. EVER WATCH AN ADDICT GO THROUGH COLD TURKEY. THAT IS HELL! THOSE ARE DEMONS. TERRIFYING UNDERSTATES THAT EXPERIENCE AND I ONLY WATCHED THIS ADDICT GO THROUGH IT HOLDING HER HAND WHILE SCREAMING WITH HER PAIN. IT TAKES A LOT OF SUFFERING AND DYING TO KILL A PERSON. THE ADDICT BEGS TO DIE BUT CANNOT. THAT IS THE LOWEST, MOST HELPLESS, PLACE IN HELL!! THIS SUICIDE MISSION IN FACING SELF CLAIMS MANY CASUALTIES. MANY DIE, MANY GO MAD AND NEVER RETURN; HOWEVER, MANY DO OVERCOME TO RETURN AND HELP OTHERS, AND THEY ARE UP AGAINST A WALL IN DOING THAT. THOSE ARE THE REAL HEROES.
